22	P Johnson	I live on a new housing estate and I do not understand the suggested boundary.	I think it is better to stick to election boundaries because people understand these.	Resident
23	M L Edwards	No, I consider that if the new Forum is to speak on Planning matters it should	As above, I consider that the boundaries should relate to Local Authority boundaries	Resident relate to current Local Authority boundaries.	and also relate directly to the democratically elected councillors for those areas.

24	Bernice Clifton	No	I believe that the proposed boundary should match existing local authority and electoral boundaries. Another set of boundaries will be confusing to residents and impair efficient consultation with electoral representatives. Previous Urban District Council boundaries are nearly 40 years out of date with many present administrations and organisations of services, facilities, local government, transport etc.	Resident
25	James Stanton	Yes		Resident
